Birgit Stattin Norinder appointed new chairman of Hansa Medical's board of directors

Hansa Medical's board of directors has named Birgit Stattin Norinder as its new chairman.

Birgit Stattin Norinder is a member of the board of directors since 2012. She was appointed chairman of the board after Hansa Medical's founder and previous chairman of the board Bo Håkansson passed away following a tragic accident.

Birgit Stattin Norinder has extensive experience from international Pharmaceutical and Biotechnology companies. She has held several senior Research and Development positions in Swedish, UK and US based Pharmaceutical companies including Pharmacia & Upjohn, Glaxo Group Research and Astra Research Centre. She has been Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of Prolifix Ltd. Birgit Stattin Norinder has also held several board and chairman positions of Swedish, Norwegian and other European Biotechnology companies. She is currently a member of the board of directors of Exini Diagnostics AB (publ) and Nicox S.A (publ).
